Margaret Toadvine has been selected as our Volunteer Of The Year. She has been a member of the Salisbury Club for 44 years. She is a wonderful example of a women who is always ready to help her fellow Quota Club members. She is our "go to" lady when it comes to any thing involving finance. New presidents go to her to learn how to make an annual budget and new treasurers know that she is always there to help with any questions. Margaret handles all of the club tax and trust details.

December brings Margaret's special project. She organizes a project for the club that provides fruit baskets for about 85 Coastal Hospice patients. She orders the fruit, candies, baskets and materials to wrap and decorate the baskets. The club members work with her on the assembly line that she sets up. These baskets are truly appreciated by the patients and their families. Margaret is a perfect example of a Quotarian. She is caring, dependable and knowledgeable. We are proud to name her as our Volunteer of the Year.
